

Egypt's Role in the Hebrew Bible, International Workshop

Romand Institute of Biblical Sciences
University of Lausanne, 22-25 April, 2015
Room 340.1 Amphipôle Building

Wednesday, April 22, Morning Session

- 9:00-9:15 Welcome Coffee
- 9:15-9:30 Frederic Amsler (IRSB Director, University of Lausanne)
Welcome and Opening
- 9:30-10:15 Youri Volokhine (Université de Genève)
Moïse et l'Égypte, quelques étapes d'un débat
- 10:15-10:30 Discussion
- 10:30-10:45 Break
- 10:45-11:30 Ido Koch (Tel Aviv University)
Egypt in Canaan – Revisiting Egyptian Imperialism, Canaanite Enslavement and Mechanisms of Hegemonic Rule
- 11:30-12:00 Discussion
- 12:00-14:00 Lunch

Wednesday, April 22, Afternoon Session

- 14:00-14:45 Nadav Na'aman (Tel Aviv University)
Where did the Negative Image of Egypt in Biblical Historiography Come From?
- 14:45-15:15 Discussion
- 15:15-15:30 Break
- 15:30-16:15 Bernd Schipper (Berlin University)
Joseph, Ahiqar and Elephantine. The Joseph Story as Diaspora Novella
- 16:15-16:45 Discussion

Thursday, April 23, Morning Session

- 9:30-10:15 Jeon Jaeyoung (University of Lausanne)
Egyptian Gola in Prophetic and Pentateuchal Traditions: A Socio-historical Perspective
- 10:15-11:00 Micaël Bürki (University of Lausanne)
Egypt in Isaiah, Between History, Memory and Intertextuality
- 11:00-11:15 Break
- 11:15-11:45 Stefan Münger (University of Bern)
References to the Pharaoh in the Local Glyptic Assemblage of the Southern Levant during the 1st part of the 1st Millennium BCE
- 11:45-12:15 Discussion
- 12:15-14:00 Lunch

Thursday, April 23, Afternoon Session

- 14:00-15:30 Thomas Römer and Shirly Ben Dor Evian (University of Lausanne)
The Past and Future of "Biblical Egyptology" – Panel Discussion

