

Program

Thursday

- 09h45-10h00 : Welcoming and introduction.
- 10h00-11h00 : Rich points and interviews: On what chief editors and journalists do – and on what they say they do.
Geert Jacobs, Ghent University
- 11h00-12h00 : (De)constructing health news: An analysis of the lifecycle of elderly-related news stories through multi-sited, linguistic ethnographic research.
Jana Declercq, Ghent University

LUNCH

- 14h00-15h00 : Methodology and methods in (news-)writing research.
Daniel Perrin, Zürich University of Applied Sciences
- 15h00-16h00 : Analyzing public story telling as products and processes: The added value of a newsroom ethnographic perspective.
Gilles Merminod, University of Lausanne

COFFEE BREAK

- 16h15-17h15 : “Maybe there is a very simple debate”:
How journalists stage a public discussion from the backstage?
Marcel Burger & Laura Delaloye, University of Lausanne
- 17h15-18h15 : Rethinking quoting in written journalism:
From a verbatim reproduction to an intertextual chain.
Lauri Haapanen, University of Helsinki

Friday

- 09h-10h00 : Economic-financial journalists
as argumentative intermediaries.
Andrea Rocci, Università della Svizzera Italiana
- 10h00-11h00: The mental grounding of linguistic representations of unaware emotions emerging in argumentative interactions: A case study from newsroom editorial meetings.
Margherita Luciani, Università della Svizzera Italiana

COFFEE BREAK

- 11h15-12h15 : The sub-editing stage of news production:
Beyond “Trimming the fat”.
Astrid Vandendaele, Ghent University
- 12h15-13h00: Round Table.
Marcel Burger, University of Lausanne