Support for Parental leave

- The FBM attaches particular importance to supporting parents and future parents in their academic careers. To help reconcile family life and the pursuit of their research, the FBM offers researchers in the fundamental sciences section a support position during parental leave.

- This measure is aimed at people with an independent project, from the Post-Doctoral level to Tenure Track Assistant Professor.