

Pierre-Etienne Bouillot is an assistant Professor at AgroParisTech. He is specialized in Agri-Food Law. Graduate of University of Nantes (France) and Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz (Germany), he holds a PhD about rural law and sustainable development.

Within the law research center of AgroParisTech and the Institute of Legal Research of the Sorbonne (IRJS), his research activities focuses on agri-food law, that is to say until Rural law to Consumer law through the Food Law.

He is teaching Food law at AgroParisTech and at the Sorbonne Law School.