

UNIL | Université de Lausanne

Faculté de droit, des sciences criminelles et d'administration publique
Ecole de droit

The Tax Policy Center and the Center for Comparative, European and International Law invite applications for a Research Fellow in Tax Disputes and International Arbitration

Starting on: 1st March 2021 or date to be agreed
Duration of contract: 1 year, possibly renewable
Activity rate: 70 to 80 %
Work place: University of Lausanne (quartier Chamberonne)
Reference : Job advert n°16727

Assignments :

- In your activities you will develop this multidisciplinary research project, which has been granted an endowment from the Faculty, and is premised on the increased importance of international arbitration in solving cross-border tax disputes. A detailed description of the project is available online (<https://www.unil.ch/taxpolicy/fr/home/menuinst/tax--investment-law.html>)

Your qualifications :

- You have a strong interest and established expertise in International Tax Law and/or in International Investment Law and/or Public International Law and/or in Commercial Arbitration
- You hold a PhD with a focus on International Tax Law and/or in International Investment Law or an established professional experience in these areas as a Swiss or foreign lawyer admitted to the Bar
- Ability to work and conduct research independently
- Ability to adapt and acquire new skills, scientific curiosity, entrepreneurial spirit and interest to build and develop new projects in a truly international network
- Fluent in English (writing and speaking); French and/or German would be an asset.

For further information :

Prof. Robert Danon
e-mail : robert.danon@unil.ch

Application file :

Interested candidates should submit their application in Word or PDF format online at the following website www.unil.ch/carrieres / postes ouverts. Only applications through this website will be taken into account.

Deadline for application :

24 January 2021